

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

February 18, 2020

CONTACT:

City College of San Francisco
Media Relations Office
CCSFmediarelations@ccsf.edu

Award -winning City College Artist Tsungwei Moo's First Solo Exhibit Focuses on Ending Gun Violence
February 18 - March 12 at the City College Art Gallery

City College of San Francisco (CCSF) art student Tsungwei Moo, winner of the 2019 United Airlines Her Art Here contest, has her first solo exhibition at the City College Art Gallery, February 18-March 12, 2020. The opening reception will be held at the Art Gallery, located on the CCSF Ocean Campus on Thursday, February 20, from 5:30pm to 7:30pm.

The exhibit entitled , Good Die Young include the artist's award -winning mixed media piece, Home Sweet Home where she used gun parts to build a "home" around a painting of a father and son. The piece was featured in the Yerba Buena Center for the Arts ' Art of Peace 2019 exhibit ion featuring art and artists raising awareness about gun violence. " Good Die Young is about my ex -boyfriend Dean, who was a victim of gun violence in 2017 in Jamaica," said Moo. "He was a kind, generous person who worked hard as a farmer and construction worker.

